WALK THROUGH A CITY SURROUNDED BY NATURE!

With plenty of spots to enjoy nature in the city, getting your fill of adventure in Sapporo is easy. Several sprawling parks decorate the city center, invigorating and refreshing your body and mind right in the heart of downtown Sapporo. Step out of the bustling city, hop on the subway, and find yourself immersed in forests and mountains without ever leaving the city.

Check out the Maruyama Park district and take a stroll through the grounds of the tranquil Hokkaido Shrine. Be it the cherry blossoms of spring or the red leaves of autumn, soak in what the season has to offer as you hike through the pristine natural environment along the mountain trails of Mt. Maruyama. If you are feeling slightly more adventurous, immerse yourself in the openness of Takino Suzuran Hillside National Government Park, where you can see fields of flowers spanning across its vast landscape.

POWDER SNOW FILLED WINTER WONDERLAND!

When winter arrives, Sapporo transforms from its vivid summer and autumn to a tranquil, white wonderland.

Various winter-themed events are held throughout Sapporo's long winter, including the world-famous Sapporo Snow Festival. The abundance of snow sports and beginner-friendly winter activities such as sledding, snow tubing, and snowshoeing will undoubtedly make your winter experience in Sapporo an unforgettable one.

The frozen air of Siberia that blows over the Sea of Japan into Hokkaido creates a generous amount of superior-quality powder snow. An average of six meters of this dreamlike snow accumulates in Sapporo every winter, making it a paradise for skiers and other winter sports enthusiasts. Sapporo is home to several ski resorts, where you can enjoy not only thrilling powder snow activities but also the excitement of the city center.

Surrounded by three oceans and boasting vast tracts of farmland, Hokkaido is a paradise of gastronomy, with Sapporo being where the best quality food from all over the prefecture meets. The seafood and produce meticulously procured every day are the real thrill of Hokkaido that can only be experienced here in the city. A number of unique dishes that are loved across Japan actually have their roots in Sapporo, including Sapporo Miso Ramen, Soup Curry, and Shime Parfait. In addition to the quality of Sapporo and Hokkaido cuisine being highly reputed across Japan, it creates the perfect blend of flavors when combined with the famous local Sapporo Beer. From sweet to fragrant and spicy flavors, Sapporo's local gourmet foods are sure to be the highlight of your trip. It is highly recommended to visit the Sapporo Beer Garden and Museum for a drink with some Genghis Khan lamb barbecue.
